Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,5,6,13,15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bullard-2199690.

Bullard discloses a device, which could be implanted into a patient, in fig. 4 having a rectangular support body 11 from which emanates 2 anterior straps13, two posterior straps 12 and two middle straps positioned between the anterior and posterior straps. Each of the pair of straps has a strap, lying on one side of a sagittal plane or axis. If one so desired, it could be used to support tissues or organs.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 3731

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3,4,7,8,9,10,11,12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bullard-'690.

Bullard discloses the invention as claimed with the exception of the specific lengths of the straps and the angles between the straps. Given that the Bullard device is for a facemask, the length of the straps exceeding 4-5 in. would have been an obvious modification in order to allow for proper tensioning of the mask around an average size head. As for the claimed angle ranges, it appears as if the angles between the pair of anterior or posterior straps are close to 90 degrees. Therefore, the examiner contends that widening the angle would have been a mere obvious design choice giving that the applicant failed to provide any criticality for these angles, failed to disclose the angles being for any particular purpose or to solve a problem, and the examiner contends that the prior art angles would have performed equally as well.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17-34 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 01-22-2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that since the prior art harness is for a gas mask and not disclosed as being configured to treat cystocele, it cannot anticipate the claims. This feature is intended use and is met if the prior art is deemed to be capable of performing the same functions as the claims recite. The examiner contends that the shape and size of the prior art harness would allow it to be used to treat cystocele.

The examiner further contends that any structure which is really just a support would be reasonably pertinent to the applicant, since the applicant's device is really just a support strap.

Information Disclosure Statement

Applicant should note that the large number of references in the attached IDS have been considered by the examiner in the same manner as other documents in Office search files are considered by the examiner while conducting a search of the prior art in a proper field of search. See MPEP

Art Unit: 3731

609.05(b). Applicant is requested to point out any particular references in the IDS which they believe may be of particular relevance to the instant claimed invention in response to this office action."

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
